

Connection Vibes

We all know the script: “Where are you from? What do you do? How’s the weather?”

Small talk keeps the surface smooth, but it rarely gives us what we actually long for: to feel understood, to feel close, to feel part of something real.

Lumira Association play day

That’s exactly what happened last week at Lumira Association, where we tested ConnectiON Vibes. It was day two of their training, the moment when people usually still hover at the edges of knowing each other. Once the cards hit the table...err...floor, the energy shifted. The focus changed, curiosity was high and stories were giving people insights in their lives, passions and challenges.

It reminded us of something simple but powerful: people want deeper conversations. They just need the right doorway.

Second version is up and running

Just wanted to let you know that the second version of the game is ready.

Printing has already started.

At the beginning of October, we're heading to Italy to train 12 youth workers in the ConnectiON Vibes method.

From there, the ripple will spread: workshops, events, new communities connecting across countries.

Maybe even a few games finding their way into your hands. We'll see.

For now, let's just remember: connection isn't a luxury. It's fuel. And every time we create a space for it, people step in.

Wanna be part of this journey?

Follow us on Instagram and share this newsletter with friends who believe in the power of meaningful connections!

Got this newsletter from a friend?

Subscribe here

